BOY OF 16 WEDS;

Statute Defining "Abduction" May Be Reversed to Apply to Women.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 11.-The case of James Wilson may result in the passage of a new State law making the passage of a new State law making it a felony for a woman to elope with a boy sixteen years old or under. It is now regarded as abduction in the eyes of the law to elope with a girl of that age, but there is nothing to forbid a woman running off with a boy. Young Wilson, who is preparing for Yale, is a son of William Wilson, a wealthy business man, who wishes to annul the marriage. Steps will be taken to do so, but the only charge which to do so, but the only charge which can be brought against either seems to be that of perjury in swearing falsely an be brosse, and the perjury in swearing laisely be that of perjury in swearing laisely to their ages.

Wilson gave his age as twenty-one, which is five years too many. His bride gave hers as twenty-two, which is said by friends to favor her by at least three years. They went to Bridgeport on March 28 and were married there by Judge William Mullins in his law office. On their return they denied stoutly that they had eloped and it was not certain that they had been married till today, when Judge Mullins sent a formal return of the marriage ceremony to the registrar's office in the city hall. Miss Cullen is the daughter of Patrick Cullen, of Springfield, a laborer, She is population.
